

Dear Parent / Student,

Hope you are doing well.

We are a part of Reimagining Higher Education Foundation (RHEF), a not-for-profit foundation sponsoring Plaksha University, an upcoming 21st-century technology and innovation University. The University is currently backed by a growing team of more than 40 Business Leaders and Entrepreneurs leading top global companies across India, USA, London, and Singapore.

We are excited to announce our summer program, the Young Technology Scholars (YTS). The idea is to expose students to real-world engineering and problem solving through hands-on learning and interdisciplinary coursework. Our program curriculum has been designed by senior faculty from leading universities of the world, in collaboration with alumni from top institutes like Stanford, UC Berkeley, HBS, IITs, and the IIMs.

In June 2018, the YTS program was held at Pathways World School, Aravali and was delivered by a world-class faculty with plenary lectures by Dr. Ravi Jasuja (Director of Translational Research & Discovery, BWH, Harvard Medical School), Prof. Hanumant Singh (Director of Center for Robotics at Northeastern University, former MIT-WHOI scientist) and Ravikrishnan Elangovan (Biophysics faculty, IIT Delhi) taught and mentored the students for two weeks. For more information, do visit our website at www.youngtechscholars.org. You may also check out the YTS 2018 Video.

We are inviting applications from students of Grades 9, 10 and 11. Education that cuts across socio-economic strata is our ethos. Rest assured, we will offer full and partial need-based scholarships to students that cannot afford the program. There is no fee for applying to our program. For more details, you can refer to our attached brochure.
